

Wholesale Textile and Fashion Representative, Sermin Agrasoy

Sermin excels in importation of environmental fabrics, home furnishing accessories, and fashion goods to the United States and beyond with ready-made or private label terms.

As a sourcing agent, Sermin is knowledgeable in the technical and comfort qualities of each sustainable material. She is impressively skilled at matching design goals with industries, such as specialty sportswear providers or healing centers.

Sermin is from and lives in Istanbul, Turkey. This is a country where organic agriculture is embraced and expanding with good health consciousness. With more than 17 years production experience in Asia, she is astute of European fashion and decor trends. Her exportation skills are beyond Turkey to North America. She represents clients in United Kingdom, Greece, and France as well.

Sermin's mission is to enlighten designers and retailers to organic and ecological textile products on a global level. She wants fashion and design marketers to know how comfortable they can help consumers feel physically and mentally, and without chemical contamination.
